Opera Southwest	(aka)	1847736-36-19
Albuquerque, NM 87102-4508

To support a new production of composer Astor Piazzolla's and poet Horacio Ferrer's operita Maria de Buenos Aires in collaboration with the National Hispanic Cultural Center. Written in the nuevo tango idiom for which Piazzolla is famous, the story goes that there was no piano in the composer's vacation home where he spent the summer of 1968 with the poet Horacio Ferrer on an operita (little opera), so he composed it on the bandoneón, a small, square accordion-like instrument. The work is written for at least three vocalists (two operatic voices and a narrator) and orchestrated for an augmented quintet: bandoneón, violin, piano, guitar, double bass, with viola, cello, flute, percussion, vibraphone, zylophone, and a second guitar. Performances will take place at the National Hispanic Cultural Center in Albuquerque, New Mexico.
